

Brian Weatherly, MBA, ASP – Speaker, Trainer, Consultant

Brian comes from a management background and not from safety. His real world approach is helping others discover and implement real world answers fitting each unique situation.

Brian is serving and assisting in planning, developing and executing methods to integrate EH&S into the core business processes. He is helping clients make their “numbers” and do more than just survive.

Brian Weatherly is an executive level consultant with over a decade of proven management consulting experience. Brian has helped small start-up organizations to Fortune 500 organizations. He provides interface between executive, division or department management and client subsidiaries or external entities. Mr. Weatherly provides safety, health and environmental management support to accomplish business objectives and exceed expectations.

He has led teams across layers of positions and operational departments in organizations and assisted in the development, support and implementation of guidelines, policies and procedures consistent with the organization’s efforts and culture. He has developed budgets, organizational strategic plans and help facilitate the operational changes needed to successfully adapt to changing market conditions and business needs.

Mr. Weatherly holds a Masters in Business Administration and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Management from the University of Phoenix. He has received training through the U.S. Department of Labor Occupational Safety and Health Administration Training Institute.

Brian has earned the Associate Safety Professional (ASP) designation from the Board of Certified Safety Professionals and will sit for the Certified Safety Professional Exam by May 2008. He is a professional member of the American Society of Safety Engineers and is serving on the Executive Board of the South Texas Chapter.

His technical expertise has assisted both government agencies and private sector companies in developing and implementing value added site-specific training and operational programs across industry lines.

His passion is helping organizations understand the value of EH&S and that having programs may not be enough. He enjoys helping organizations think outside the box to ensure a positive solution to their needs. Brian works with several organizations in different states helping to reach thousands of people across the country. Brian works with organizations such as Total Safety Compliance, JoshuaCasey Corporate Training, Fit For Work and his private practice, Wxly & Associates.

Brian’s driving passion is to help you change culture and get it done. His personal mission is to spend the rest of his life dedicated to instilling a sense of hope, purpose; love and faith in his family and with all he gets the privilege to meet and know for -- God’s glory.

